TOWN CRIER - WILMINGTON, MASS.

OCTOBER 7, 1965

PRICE 10 CENTS

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS MIFFED MAY LOSE CH. 90 FUNDS

Wilmington has an excellent chance of losing $33,600 in funds for road construction, Town Manager Dick Henneberger learned Tuesday in the County Court House in Cambridge.

Henneberger was one of a dozen residents of Wilmington who attended a public hearing on the proposed construction of Burlington Avenue, between Boutwell St. and the Burlington line, under the provisions of Chapter 90, General Laws.

The County Commissioners, chairmaned by John Dever, Jr. of Woburn, after finding out that the town had not assessed the probable 'land takings' along Burlington Avenue, and had not appropriated money to pay for damages for the land that will have to be taken, ended the hearing. They said that they would hold any action until the information had been supplied.

The Commissioners also voted, (both motions by Commissioner Connors) to require the Town of Wilmington Engineering Department and the County Engineering Department to 're-evaluate' their engineering data. This was voted in the apparent belief that the data had not been co-related, but statements were made after the hearing that all the data has been compared and agrees, in an engineering sense.

Henneberger was warned by the Commissioners that if Wilmington does not provide a Chapter 90 Project, in compliance with the law, before Dec. 31, 1965, it will lose this year's County appropriation of $33,600.

One of the County Engineers said that 'Wilmington is on the bottom of the list' as far as the county is concerned, because of the many changes that have been made in proposed Chapter 90 construction during the past few years.

As outlined by the County Commissioners to Henneberger, the town will have to have 49 pieces of land assessed, along Burlington Avenue, and appropriate money for damages, before Dec. 31st, under the provisions of a statute

1965 Community Fund Drive

GIRL SCOUTS ARE AIDED BY THE COMMUNITY FUND: The 1965 Wilmington Community Fund, now in progress, seeks $10,000 this year. Not affiliated with any other fund, it supports Wilmington organizations and charities, including Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Campfire Girls, Little League, Pop Warner Football, Pony League, Crusaders Drum & Bugle Corps, Mildred Rogers Fund, Camp 40 Acres, the USO, and the Cerebral Palsy Clinic.

The Fund also provides Direct Relief, providing hospital beds and wheel chairs, Christmas Baskets and Gifts to the Needy, and Emergency Aid to the Unfortunate.

The Girl Scouts of Wilmington had a Camping Demonstration on Sept. 25th, for the Community Fund. Senior Girl Scouts are shown here, raising a tent on the Rotary Park. The four girls nearest the camera are Judy McLeish of Tewksbury, Catherine Filipowicz, Cathy Cuneo, also of Tewksbury, and Catherine McCann. The two Tewksbury girls, who came down to help, are wearing the yellow hat which signifies that they made the trip last year to the Girl Scout encampment in Idaho.

Buzzell resigns

Back in 1929 a private detective sued the Town of Wilmington for $1700, which he claimed, he had earned doing detective work for the Town of Wilmington.

The attorney who appeared in Court was a young man of 37, named Philip B Buzzell. He had just been appointed Town Counsel by the Board of Selectmen of Wilmington - the first man ever to have the honor of that office.

Mr. Buzzell won the case, and the private detective had to go to work elsewhere. Buzzell's pay, for that year, (including his out-of-pocket expenses) was $250.

Philip Buzzell has done much for the town, since those days of 1929, indeed he was doing things for his fellow townspeople before that day. He had been a Scout Master, some ten years previously and he had been a Trustee of Trust Funds for the past five years.

He was to become, in the future, a member of the Board of Library Trustees, (his father, Dr. Daniel Buzzell had also served in that capacity), and the Moderator of Wilmington.

Time has dealt gently with Philip Buzzell. Now 73 years old, he is one of the leading attorneys in the Commonwealth. He still receives a pittance for the town, for serving as Town Counsel.

But that is about to change. Mr. Buzzell submitted a letter of resignation, Tuesday, to Mrs Wayle Drew, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen.

The resignation is to take effect on Dec. 31, 1965.

OVERPRINTED $10 BILLS: Which Joe Deegan (left) received last Thursday, in the Mechanics Savings Bank, from Barry Boyd, a Northeastern University Co-operative Student, who works for the Mechanics Savings Bank part time. Boyd lives in Stoneham.

Deegan, a WHS grad, married to the former June Tuttle, is a Meter Reader for the Water Dept, and lives on MacDonald Road.

He has received an offer of $6500 from Vinny Coyne of Wilton Drive, for the two bills.

Vocational School Hearing

Richard Keane, Chairman of the Wilmington Regional Vocational High School District Planning Committee, has announced that the committee will hold a public hearing, in the Herbert C. Barrows Auditorium of the High School next Thursday, at 8 pm.

The hearing will be for the purpose of explaining the proposal to establish a Regional Vocational School for the towns of Wilmington, Billerica, Burlington, Bedford and Tewksbury.

Thank you, Wilmington

I want to extend my sincere thanks and deepest appreciation for all the teas, luncheons, and dinners held last June in my honor.

My thanks go to all who participated in making the climax of my teaching career such an enjoyable and memorable time. The School Committee, Superintendent Mr. Shea, The Principal Mr. McMahon, The Department Heads, The teaching staff, school personnel, the Wilmington Teachers' Association, and the graduates are included in my thanks.

I shall remember especially the Testimonial Tea given for me, understanding all the time and long term plans that made the affair such a success. The many gifts and the people who contributed to them will always have a high place in my esteem for their generosity. It has been a great pleasure over the years, and especially at the end of my teaching career, to have been associated with such kind and thoughtful people.

FOOLISH FINANCES

Imagine the case of a man who has a nice new shiny car, for which he has spent a lot of money, and will be spending more money in months to come, paying off notes in the bank.

Imagine further that he discovers that the radiator leaks.

Does he throw away the car, and get a new one? Or does he get a new radiator, or have the old one repaired?

Wilmington, a couple of years ago, built a new school in North Wilmington. The North Intermediate School.

The roof leaks. It leaks badly, when there is a heavy rain. Someone, roofer, contractor or architect, goofed.

The matter has still to be settled. It is now in court, and, on last advice to this paper, the roof still leaks.

So Wilmington threw away all its experience with that school, and started all over again, just like the fellow who threw away the car.

Wilmington is building a new school, in West Wilmington, quite similar, but from brand new plans, costing in the neighborhood of $100,000. Wilmington already possessed plans, granted that the roof leaked.

When the North School was in the planning stages the Finance Committee, in its wisdom, cut $50,000 from the proposed price, and tried to have the school built for $1,050,000.

When the West School was in the planning stages, and the price was up to $1,440,000, the Finance Committee, without a quiver, just approved the price.

The increase in cost of construction, during that period, was about 3%, possibly 4%. One more room was added. The total might cost an additional $100,000, but perhaps would have been less.

So the West School is costing a quarter of a million dollars more, to the taxpayers, than it could have cost had some economy minded people been in charge.

NOW THE LIBRARY

In the Special Town Meeting, on October 25th, the voters will be asked to appropriate $886,000 for a new public library.

The price was not set by the Board of Library Trustees. That devoted group have long worked for a new library, but the prices are being set by the same committee that is spending an extra quarter of a million for the West Intermediate School.

There is no doubt but that the Board of Library Trustees are not going to get their library, in this Special Town Meeting, unless there is a radical change in price. A two thirds majority vote will be needed, and the Trustees will not get that vote, in spite of the overwhelming sentiment in their favor.

There is reason to believe that a library, just as the Trustees have proposed it to be built, can be erected for about $600,000 - and perhaps a little less.

And this with the Air Conditioning - which the Town Crier wholeheartedly supports.

FOOTNOTE

The question can be asked: How did the town come to vote a $1,440,000 school without asking questions.

The vote went through the Town Meeting in less than five minutes.

The first person recognized by the Moderator was Felice Vitale, of Woburn Street. Mr. Vitale is a very nice person, and he believes that he is a person who knows a lot about municipal government. He was a candidate for Selectman last year, and has already filed papers for 1966 for the same post.

Unfortunately Mr. Vitale does not know his subject.

He rambled on, for a few minutes, about economy, without actually saying anything.

Harold Melzar, ex Selectman, ex Town Manager, and at present Chairman of the Board of Water Commissioners was sitting in the front row, only a few feet from Vitale. Mr. Melzar became irritated at the rambling speech, and 'moved the question'.

When the 'question is moved', parliamentary procedure immediately cuts off all debate. Not even the question itself can be debated.

The voice vote was in favor of Mr. Melzar's motion. The people didn't want to listen to Mr. Vitale.

And several dozen persons who did have some knowledge, and did want to ask questions, did not have an opportunity.

The moral, of course, is that the Moderator of the meeting should not be so partial to the Town Meeting Clowns.

Secondary Schools

No more Honor Rolls

The School Committee, a week ago, abolished the publication of Honor Rolls, for the secondary schools of Wilmington, at least for the school year 1965-6.

The move was made after a long discussion in which the opinions of both Guidance Counselor John Hamilton and High School Principal Bernard McMahon expressed opinions which were in favor of abolishing the publication.

Hamilton told the school board that 'it made the children terribly mark conscious - and in some cases put a social stigma on children who for one reason or another were not included.'

The traditional Honor Roll, Hamilton told the board, 'is a worthless indication of the student's true achievement picture, as it does not take into consideration the difficulty of any given subject, nor the standards of the groupings.'

Honor Rolls are never asked for by either colleges or employers, Hamilton said.

George Robertie of the board, disagreed with Hamilton, feeling that the published honor roll was an incentive to children. He went on to mention an incident in which academic award winners were 'booed' last year, and wondered if the non-publication of the honor rolls wouldn't tend to honor less the student, than the athlete.

Bernard McMahon, Principal of the High School, told Robertie that he did not think so. Some of the athletes were not too popular with some of the student body, he said. McMahon didn't think that there was much honor awarded the athletes, and mentioned that this year's try-out for football was only 26 pupils.

It was, he said, 'The lowest ever' Harold Shea, Supt. of Schools, told the School Board that the compilation of the honor rolls was 'extremely time consuming'.

All the marks for any individual student is within easy access to the school authorities, he said, and students marks can easily be compiled for such civic organizations as the Women's Club, Rotary, etc.

Other Business

The committee, after a discussion of the bids for electronic equipment, voted to award contracts to Radio Shack Corp. and to McLeod Associates. Radio Shack was awarded Item I for $445.20 and McLeod Associates, Inc., was the low bidder of the other two items for a total of $2,377.75.

The request of the Wilmington Teacher's Ass'n. was tabled until the October 21 meeting or until a full committee is present, whichever is first.

A motion by Robertie to honor past members of the School Committee by issuing free passes to all school activities was carried unanimously. The passes would be good for ten years and would include present and future School Committee members after their terms had expired.

The Committee voted a maximum allowance of $300 for attendance at the Industrial Arts Teacher's Convention which will be held next month in Connecticut. Supt. Shea commented that generally school superintendents were authorized to decide on conventions within the state, and the School Committees decided on out of state conventions.

Arthur Lynch remarked, during the discussion of the Woburn Street School flag pole, that the one at the Police Station was a 'home-made job' and looks fine and works well.

Superintendent's Report

Shea reported on the expected influenza epidemic and informed the committee that a letter, approved by him, has been circulated to school personnel regarding immunization.

The consensus of opinion among parents revealed that the Principals' Coffee Hours are well-accepted and that this be extended to include the High School parents. October 5th is planned for the first morning session for grade 7.

Shea discussed two sites to be proposed for an elementary school. One, at the corner of Hopkins St. and Shawsheen Avenue and the other in back of Whitefield School. Important planning would have to be made this year, Shea said, with possible relocation of grades to free classrooms in critical areas.

Regional Vocational School

The brochure on the Regional Vocational School is ready, Keane informed the committee. He said that the Wilmington District Vocational School Committee will make itself available to all civic groups to answer any and all questions pertaining to the proposed Vocational School. The committee, Keane said, is looking for opportunities to talk about the school and explain it to all the people. McMahon suggested sending brochures home with the school children since the brochures are good size and contain 24 pages which makes mailing too costly. These brochures will be available at the Town Meeting.

An executive session was called to discuss certain correspondence.

Mr. Beaupre had high praise for the Chairmen, Captains, and Crusaders who helped make this drive so successful.

Cain stirred it up

The Selectmen's Meeting

Fred Cain put an otherwise routine Selectmen's meeting into high gear, Monday night, when he arrived to plead for an addition to the already printed and signed Warrant for the Special Town Meeting. Tuesday, October 5th, was the final day for the posting of the Warrant, which must be posted twenty days prior to the Town Meeting.

Mr. Cain, who has adopted the improvement of the Nichols Street Bridge as his project for the town, told the Selectmen that the county and state have already allocated the money for the project, $120,000 but the town must now appropriate $40,000 as its share of the project. The time element, Cain explained, is of critical importance. If the contracts for the bridge improvement are not let by the town before December 31, then all the county money goes back into the General Fund, and is lost to the town.

Selectman Bender suggested that they call the Town Counsel immediately to see if another article could be legally added to the already printed Warrant. TM Henneberger called Buzzell and explained the matter to him. Buzzell said that since the County Commissioners hearing isn't until October 29th, he thought the Board would be 'putting the cart before the horse' in placing the article for appropriation of the money on the Warrant before the County Commissioners hearing.

Henneberger thanked Buzzell for advice, hung up, and told the Board of Buzzell's opinion. 'But the hearing is just a formality,' Cain said, 'the money is already allocated.'

'I thought we were going to ask him 'how we could do it', not 'if we could do it'.'

At this point Mrs. Drew asked Capt. Larz Neilson if he knew of such a thing ever having been done before. Neilson recalled that two methods of adding an additional eleventh hour article to the Warrant had been used before: an addenda to the Warrant, and two Special Town Meetings in one night. In his 'humble opinion', Neilson told the Board, the Board had the legal right to use either method.

Buzzell was called for a second time, and he confirmed Neilson's opinion. The Board decided to use 'addenda method', and Mary O'Rourke, the Selectmen's Secretary, was set to work typing five copies of the article as Buzzell had worded it for the Board over the phone. The Addenda was to be posted with the original Warrant on Tuesday, October 5th.

In other significant action, the Board approved Henneberger's appointment of Emil A. Berger, 4 Drury Lane, to fill out the unexpired term of Joseph Slater on the Planning Board. His term expires in June of 1966.

Mr. Berger, who has lived in Wilmington since 1958 when he joined Avco as a Senior Operations Analyst, has a Ph. D. in Psychology and Community Relations. He received a promotion from Avco, this year, to Department Manager of the Missiles System Financial Management. Mr. Berger sees his Planning Board appointment as an opportunity to exercise his interest in the long range planning of Wilmington.

Request for Hall Permit

George Wilson of 222 Andover Street appeared before the Board to request permission to convert his garage, located at the same address, into an all-purpose hall for wedding banquets, dances, etc.

Bender said that before the Board could act, Wilson would have to submit a plan outlining the safety features of the building and also, it would be necessary to find out if a license was required for operating a hall.

Wilson said that he would be back next Monday, remarking that it was necessary for him to act quickly since his land was in that parcel which the Planning Board is requesting the Town Meeting to rezone from Industrial back to Rural.

Ballardvale Street

Bender told the Board that the Andover Selectmen are considering a joint meeting on October 19, with the Wilmington Selectmen to discuss mutual improvements on Ballardvale Street for possible industrial development. Bender said that Andover would notify the Board of a definite date.

Power Committee

Selectman LaRivee put the name of William Hooper, 11 Strout Avenue, in nomination for the Power Committee. The names in nomination now are: Ralph Kelmon, Albert Parsons, Robert Leahy, Irwin Hanke, and William Hooper.

Since Selectmen Black and Niles were not present at the meeting, final consideration of the Power Committee was tabled until next Monday.

Regional Vocational School

Richard Keane, Bernard Mc Mahon, and Dick Pelletier appeared before the Board to present the final, official report of the Regional Vocational High School Planning Committee, recommending the establishment of a district and plans for such establishment. The proposal will appear on the Warrant for the Special Town Meeting.

1966 Budget

TM Henneberger told the Board that he would like to have all articles, projects or proposals to include or consider for the 1966 budget as soon as possible.

PROPOSE RONALD EATON SQUARE

The end of Glen Road, where it meets Main Street, will be named Ronald Eaton Square, if the proposals of the Memorial Day Committee are acted upon favorably, next Monday, by the Board of Selectmen.

Commander Paul Farrell, VFW, Past Commander Victor Okolo, American Legion, and Chaplain Dorcel Parsons, VFW, arrived at the Selectmen's meeting after it had adjourned Monday, to make their proposal.

Ronald Eaton, an Ensign, U.S. Navy, was shot down during the Korean Conflict, and while seen alive just after his plane had landed in North Korean territory, he never returned to the Allied lines. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard H. Eaton, 80 Main Street.

The veterans are proposing a bronze plaque, in memory of all those who died in the Korean Conflict, and hope to dedicate the square on Veterans' Day, Nov. 11.

Cain voting against Sales Tax

IT'S OVER THERE FELLERS: Wilmington's football team, down to a mere 29 players this year, has yet to smell a victory, but it was very close, last Saturday, closer than the 12-6 score indicated, in the game against North Andover.

North Andover's Herman broke up an attempted pass to Wilmington HB Kenny Simard, in the second quarter, and the camera caught the football standing on end.

ST. THOMAS CHURCH

Masses: Sunday 7, 8:15, 9:30, 10:45 and 12:00. Weekdays, 6:45am
St. Thomas Sodality: Meetings will start Monday, October 11 at 7:45 pm, with benediction and prayer. New members are invited to join, meetings are held monthly.

Fall Retreat for Married Couples will be held over the weekend of Oct. 22-24 at the Espousal Retreat House, Waltham. The Stigmatine Fathers conduct this Retreat.

Rep. Fred F. Cain of Wilmington is among the 123 majority of the House of Representatives who voted to eliminate the income tax jump in Governor Volpe's tax package bill, Monday.

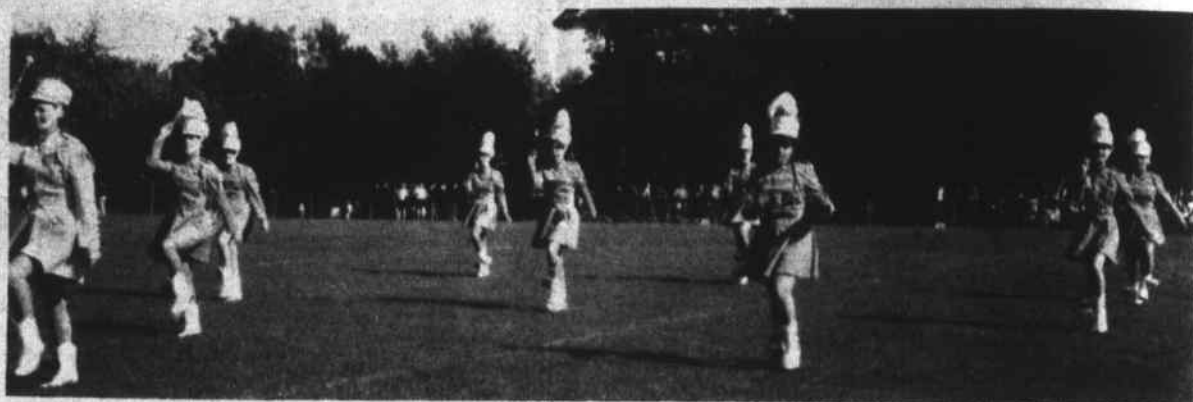

The Democratic strategy is to add amendment after amendment to cripple the Volpe bill. The Governor was victorious by a one vote margin last week, but Monday's session threw him for a loss.

The Democratic leadership is aimed at making Volpe's bill unworkable. Rep. Shea of Quincy said "If all our amendments are adopted there will be no sales tax."

The surprise of Monday's session was when Rep. Harrison Chadwick of Winchester, a partisan Republican, spoke against Volpe's plan. He said he does not favor voting for an increased income tax and a sales tax combined. He challenged the Governor to produce 'detailed estimates' showing that $200,000,000 is required for state and municipal needs.

The tax discussion is to be resumed today, after the passage of the Jewish holidays.

In addition to explaining what is planned, the committee will answer all questions pertaining to the proposal.

The committee has received 5,000 booklets, which explain the proposal. The booklets were printed for the East Central Middlesex Regional Vocational Technical High School Planning Board, made up of members from the five towns.

Several thousand of the booklets will be sent home to the parents, by school children, and more will the Public Library, North School, High School, Town Hall, Fire Station, Police Station, Post Office and several of the churches.

RAIDERS TOPPLE CHARGERS

The Wilmington Chargers, who travelled to Melrose last Sunday for a Pop Warner Football game with the Raiders were defeated by a score of 28-12.

The Chargers scored first when Steve Catalano pitched to Mike Esposito who passed to Bruce MacInnes down the middle. The play covered 40 yards. The points after were missed.

The ensuing kickoff was the start of the 2nd period which found Don Doucette receiving the ball on his own 20 yard line, break off to his left, and with great downfield blocking, going 60 yards for the score. Rich Thibeault went over left guard for the 2 points. The half closed with the Raiders leading 8-6.

In the opening of the 3rd period, Doucette got the kickoff on his own 10 yard line and moved it to the 20. Thibeault, on a handoff from Doucette, went over left tackle, broke to the outside, and went 48 yards for the score. Joe Birt added the 2 points.

Wilmington received the kickoff and Mike Esposito brought it back to his own 10 yard line. Nine yards were lost in two plays and then the Chargers fumbled on the 1 yard line where the Melrose Raiders recovered the ball. Doucette scored again on the first play but the try for extra points was missed and the score was now 22-6.

The Chargers were unable to move the ball after the kickoff. Melrose fumbled on the first play from scrimmage and Jim Irwin recovered on the Charger 35 yard line. Esposito went 10 yards and passed to Bill Gustus. Four yards were gained in two plays when Butch Everett went wide for a T.D. The Chargers missed the extra points.

The Raiders then marched 55 yards in 8 plays making the score 28 to 12.

The next 3 games will be home games played on Sunday afternoons at 1:30. The Chargers will host Lynn next Sunday.

What do you know about Orientals? Can you tell by looking if a rug is genuine, hand-made, imported Oriental or a machine-produced imitation? Can you tell whether dyes will fade and nap wear out in a short time leaving you with a rug that looks old but is still fairly new?

The weaving of rugs is an interesting subject, especially in Orientals. Would you like to know what to look for when buying rugs or carpeting? If you do, we have just the man that can help you; he's our brother, Leo.

Leo is the talkative one in the family, in fact, he likes to give lectures and has spoken at many clubs and organizations in the area. We've listened to several of his lectures, and surprisingly, he's pretty good.

If you would like to have him speak to your organization, don't be bashful, give him a call. In fact, if you would like him to, he will arrange to meet with your group right here in our showroom. When you visit us here, however, we insist on being the hosts; we'll even provide the coffee and Oriental pastry.

TRAFFIC SUPERVISORS ANNUAL MEETING

The Wilmington Traffic Supervisors (Division of Special Police Officers) were host to about 250 members of the Mass. Policewomen's Association annual meeting held last Friday evening at the North Intermediate School.

Mr. Kenneth Lyons, a well known hypnotist entertained the ladies. Pat Gately was chosen as one of the 'subjects'. While under a hypnotic spell, she was told to sniff ammonia vapors, but she was told it would smell like perfume. She said the 'perfume' was wonderful, but as soon as the spell was broken, the ammonia odor nearly bowled her over.

The buffet supper, catered by Richards of West Street, was served following the business meeting.

President Grace Santo was in charge of the decorations befittingly done in red, yellow, and green.

Services for Janet Milone

Funeral services for Janet L. Milone of 3 Wilton Drive were held from the J. B. McMahon & Son Funeral Home, Wednesday morning at 8 am, with a High Mass of Requiem at St. Dorothy's Church at 9 am, sung by the Rev. John R. McNell, with the Rev. Joseph W. Leahy seated in the sanctuary.

Burial followed in the family lot in St. Michael's Cemetery, in Boston, where the committal prayers were read by the Rev. Robert P. White, of St. Andrew's Church, Forest Hills. Pall bearers were James Milone, Dominick Milone, Joseph Milante, and Kenneth Finley. A graduate of Wilmington High School, Class of 1964, Miss Milone is survived by her mother, Mrs. Jerolme Milone Haskill, a sister, Mrs. Marie Ward of North Andover, and two brothers, Arthur and Stephen of Wilmington.

She met her death in an accident in Stoneham, Sunday morning, at the intersection of Routes 93 and 128.

The car in which Miss Milone was a passenger overturned, as it exited onto Route 128, and she was caught beneath the car, as it dragged for about 300 feet. Death was instantaneous.

Mary McCauley, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McCauley, 61 Taplin Avenue, also a passenger in the car, still had to recover consciousness, Wednesday afternoon, at the New England Sanitarium and Hospital, in Stoneham, but was showing signs of recovery.

Seriously injured were John A. Rathbon, 19, of Back Bay, described as the driver of the car, William McInnis, 20, of Dorchester, who was also trapped under the car, Lorraine Brackett, 21, of Brookline, and Alan Young, 24, of Allston. All were taken to the New England San except Young, who was taken to the Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn.

HEARING (Fr. Fr. Page)

which was passed about three years ago.

Failure to do this, or to provide an alternate road, with the proposed land-takings assessed, and money appropriated for damages will mean that the town will lose its 1965 share of Chapter 90 Construction funds.

The Hearing

Henneberger was the first speaker in the formal hearing, which preceded the conversations between Henneberger and the Commissioners.

Henneberger told the Commissioners that the Selectmen of Wilmington felt that they were 'damned if they did, and damned if they didn't' approve of the proposed construction. But, Henneberger said, a widening of Burlington Avenue is inevitable, and there fore it should be done.

He introduced one letter in opposition, which had been sent to the Selectmen.

Chairman Dever asked if there had been any assessing of the proposed land takings. He was informed that the work had not been done.

'I can't see any reason for this hearing' Dever said, 'with no estimates'.

Atty. Tim Kane told the Commissioners that the money could be raised in a Special Town Meeting.

Highway Supt. James White recorded himself in favor, and then in answer to questions by Dever, said that there were trees and stone walls in the proposed takings, but there were a 'lot of trees' and they would not need to be replaced.

His statements were seconded by Town Engineer Al Savignac. Commissioner Connors then pointed out that there was no money in the 1965 Town Budget for the proposed construction of Burlington Avenue.

'That is correct' White said. County Engineer Shaughnessey told the Commissioners that the Burlington Avenue section would be a part of a Chapter 90 Construction Project which has been in progress for several years in Burlington, on Wilmington Road (the same as Burlington Avenue in Wilmington). He also said that the state has plans to reconstruct the Burlington Avenue bridge over the B & M RR tracks near Wilmington Square.

Attorney Tim Kane, speaking in opposition, told the Commissioners that he represented 'a number' of residents of Burlington Avenue and nearby streets who were opposed to widening the street.

Residents, he said, had offered to give the town land for a sidewalk, about a year ago, but it was not accepted. The street is in good condition, there is not too much traffic except possibly at about 8 am and again at 5 pm, and if 'they' were really going to do something for safety 'they' should eliminate bad curves, and ask the state to appropriate money for a new bridge over the Boston & Maine.

Kane said that Burlington Avenue would become 'another Route

93'. People move out into the country, and are happy on a street without too much traffic. If a widening was to be made, he charged, the town will not put in a sidewalk.

Kane also said he understood that the Town Engineer was 'going to get an estimate' and that the town was going to have to pay a lot of damages, 'I don't know if ten thousand or fifty thousand'.

There was nothing before the Commissioners, he said, for them to take favorable action. He had never heard of any traffic tie-ups on Burlington Avenue, nor of accidents, nor of requests that the police be assigned to the area.

Ralph Montuori of Burlington Avenue told the commissioners that his home was improperly plotted on the map of the proposed construction.

He didn't believe that anything was going to be done about sidewalks, and what are they going to do about the bridges? He said further that 'they should do Route 38'.

Montuori went on to say that the proposal made poor sense 'if you are not going to extend the curves'.

and that the travelled way is now 26 feet 'and this is all they propose'

Commissioner Dever, in answer to questions from several persons, said that the width was a matter for the Department of Public Works but that it would probably be about 30 feet.

Highway Supt. White summed up, before the motions were made, by telling the Commissioners that in a hearing at the Boutwell School the people were told by the Selectmen that in order to get a sidewalk for the school children, the street had to be widened. 'They were definitely promised a sidewalk', he said.

Three Police Cruisers & Zip

A Neighborhood Party

A couple of years ago there was a party for the people of Moore and Manning Streets.

Moore and Manning Streets are a part of a real estate development off Shawsheen Avenue, known as Jackson Heights No. 1. The development was built by the Jackson Brothers of Wilmington.

The party, held on a nice balmy evening, was a Get-Together and Meet-Your-Neighbor idea, for the new residents of the area.

It is still fondly remembered by some of the people who took part. Their story, and they claim it is true, is that the people of Grove Avenue were complaining about the noise and sent the Police Cruisers down to the DAV Hall three times to quiet that place down.

Of course the story doesn't have much truth to it, but anyway the people enjoy it. Who ever heard of a Wilmington Gendarme having to go three times, to one place?

So last Saturday Night there was a second party.

Not in Jackson Heights I, but in Jackson Heights II, the one that is up at the end of Shawsheen Avenue, right by the Shawsheen River, and next door to Billerica.

It was even a bigger party, and before it was over the people of Grace Drive had a chance to meet Zip, the Police Dog.

The Jackson Brothers planted the idea of a party in the fertile minds of four of the residents, Gene Leary, Hank Lavole, Larry Cuddy and Mike Florette. That was all that was needed.

There are about sixty homes in the new development, and they have nearly all been built in the past year plus a few months. Not too many of the people had had a chance to meet their neighbors.

Almost everybody joined in. The price per family was $3. One could buy an awful lot of hamburgers and hot dogs for that money, especially after the Jackson Brothers made a substantial contribution.

The party was down at the end of Grace Drive, overlooking the Shawsheen. Grace Drive ends in a big circle, and in the middle is a nice little park, with one tree in the middle.

That tree was planted by Fred Jackson, and is known as Fred's Tree. It is something like the old Liberty Tree of Boston - sort of a landmark.

All Saturday afternoon the volunteers worked, making that place worthy of a party. Japanese lanterns, - loudspeakers - music. What do you need for a party? Came dusk. It was chilly, but everybody was there.

'There can't be any complaint from Grove Avenue this time - it's too far away' the Jackson Brothers told each other.

The music was fine, and Hank Lavole, by design or by accident, became the Master of Ceremonies.

Hank is what is known as a North Cambridge Frenchman, meaning that his family were among those who emigrated from Canada to Cambridge, fifty odd years ago.

But Hank must have been to other places than North Cambridge's Little Canada, or the office of the Metropolitan Insurance Company, where he works.

He was the type of MC who has seen the professionals at work in such places as Las Vegas.

Either that or Hank spends a lot of time watching the TV shows.

Hank got the party swinging along when a Stranger showed up.

He was named Danny Noonan, and he bore an accordion in his arms.

Danny soon was at the microphone. He played a piece.

Nobody stirred. They just stood there!

So Danny swung into some waltz music - Casey Would Waltz with the Strawberry Blond, and that sort.

That was what was needed. Soon everyone was dancing and singing.

And, over to one side, the cooks got busy. George Revelas was in charge. George kept busy for hours cooking hamburgers and hot dogs.

The people were hungry, but there was an added factor.

They were cold - the air was cold - and those hamburgers and hot dogs were not! They just kept eating.

Meanwhile Hank and Danny had joined forces. There was a quartet here, and another there, and every one was singing.

No one realized how the time flew by - but suddenly it was 11:15 pm, and there at the Circle were three police cruisers.

There were two cruisers with Wilmington Gendarmes, and one with Billerica Gendarmes.

And there was Zip, too. Zip is one of the Wilmington Police Dogs, and under the care of Jay Palmer he will joyfully break up any assembly.

But Zip wasn't needed. The cops all had hamburgers and hot dogs, along with the crowd, and then everybody went home, and the cops and Zip too.

That is, about half of them went home.

The other half went to the Ted Phillips home, where there is a piano. Several of the men on Grace Drive are musicians, and the party lasted until 3:15 am.

But that's another story.

YOUTH CONCERTS

Thirty-eight youngsters will ride a yellow school bus on Saturday, November 6, which picks them up at the Swain School at 10 am and takes them to Symphony Hall in Boston to hear the Youth Concert.

Last year over 50 children from Wilmington attended these concerts. Mrs. Jackie Platt states that she hopes that more young people will join the group to hear concerts that have been selected to appeal to the children.

The town co-chairmen are Mrs. Jackie Platt (658-3445), and Mrs. Helen Hayward (658-3306), and are ably assisted by Mrs. Edith Michelson. The cost of $7. includes the series ticket for concerts held Nov. 6, Jan. 15, and March 26, and the bus fare.

Letters

Dear Larz,

Enclosed is a copy of the letter sent to the committee on Dollars for Scholars from the recipient of the fund for a 1965 graduate. The Dollars for Scholars Fund is sponsored by the mothers in the Glen Road School area. In the class of 1966, we hope possibly to help two students.

Alma Williams, Pres.

Sept. 20, 1965
 Wilkie Quad S405
 Indiana University

Dear Mrs. Williams,

I never thought I'd make it through this past week, what with orientation and registration. The waiting in line for hours on end is an experience none of us will forget. This year the University installed and used a gigantic IBM computer to speed up the burdensome process of class registration, only something went wrong and the computer made numerous errors.

We started classes last Friday. Mine include - Introductory Psychology I, English Composition, Voice Class I, Applied Organ, Secondary Piano, a Cappella choir and Physical Education.

My total number of credit semester hours is 15 1/2 which is about average for first semester freshmen. My course, as such, seems rather easy and insignificant, but with 4-5 hours a day in practice for organ, piano and voice I shall be kept busy. I'm very pleased with my schedule and feel my first semester will be very profitable.

I live in a women's residence center called Wendell Wilkie Quadrangle. The room is a double with two desks, ample closet and shelf space, two twin beds and a telephone. My room mate who is from New Jersey, and I brightened up the room with new bedspreads and an arrangement of plastic flowers.

I want to thank again, you and the other people who helped in any way to finance this new educational venture of mine.

Sincerely,
 Margaret Harding

Dear Larz,

I cried when I read your article in this weeks Crier, Sept. 30, titled The Mayor Has Gone. To me, this is one of the saddest of things to happen to a grand old man.

It would seem to me that somehow, somehow, all of these folks he worked for and helped and for whom he did much, perhaps not in a large pretentious monetary way, but none-the-less he helped, could come forward and see that his remaining days were spent comfortably in his beloved Wilmington.

Perhaps it would not have been practical to have help hired round the clock to stay with him at the Housing for the Elderly, but it does seem to me that he could be situated in a more comfortable way. Whenever someone was in need of crutches or a wheelchair or even a card to be sent to someone ill, George was there. He always had a good word and a big smile for all and remembered everyone whom he knew. Sometimes I couldn't figure out how since he knew so many folks.

In your article, you did make an error. Officer John Ritchie did not drive him to the Nursing Home. This is not any slur to John Ritchie, for he was on duty, but to point out again how the young folks still love him. One of the young men of Wilmington drove him to the Nursing Home and it was a very heartrending ordeal for the young man. He took him in and sat and talked with him for a while and tried to cheer George up. This young man told him he plans to visit him.

George was very downhearted and is awaiting death, he feels his useful days are at an end, but I say he should be remembered now while he is alive and cared for in a better manner. Are we so mercenary today that we can't help a man like George Spanos who has given so much of himself to others, that we can't somehow let him end his years in a more happy and comfortable way?

One should say instead, there but for the Grace of God, go I. This man always had words of encouragement for the young folks and such faith in them, which I do think they have in the long run, justified. He also had words of encouragement for the older folks with problems. He was a Good Man, a Good American, a Good Friend, and a Compassionate man toward all. If only there were more like him in this old world, we would have a finer world to live in, with less wars and hate.

Now I have spoken my piece, and let anyone take it from there. I did not identify the boy who drove George to the Nursing Home for I did not wish to embarrass him. I have had eight children with six now at home and I, for one, would give anything if I could afford to take care of this man.

this section owe a duty to present for their personal advantage.

4. This section briefly states a zoning change and receives an unfavorable report from the Plan-

trict, thereby extending the present Industrial District to include
